Should you choose drapes or blinds? We asked interior designers which window treatment is best

Caroline Milns, head of design at Zulufish says it's important to be cohesive, 'Drapes can be inspired by the color palette of the room – pick out a specific color that may be woven throughout the interior, but also look to bring different patterns and textures into play to create a layered effect within the room by adding weight and drama. From a practical perspective, drapes also diffuse sound a lot more than blinds.'
